HARD TIMES HIT EVERY FAMILY. LEARN ABOUT THE OPTIONS AND RESOURCES AVAILABLE TO YOU TODAY.

MHA's HAMP Program

The Making Home Affordable (MHA) program was specifically designed to help homeowners impacted by the financial crisis. HAMP is the MHA's first and largest program and has helped over 17,000 Houstonians reduce their monthly payments by an average of 34% since its implementation in 2009. The application deadline is December 30, 2016.

MHA's Unemployment Program (UP)

UP helps unemployed homeowners stay in their homes by granting qualified unemployed borrowers a forbearance period of three months that reduces or suspends their monthly mortgage payments. The application deadline is December 30, 2016.

Talk to Local Housing Counselors

Non-profit housing agencies have professional counselors who are experts on local programs, and act as the link between servicers and distressed borrowers. For a list of HUD-approved agencies in the Houston area, visit HUD.gov/offices/hsg/sfh/hcc/hcs.cfm today.

Visit MakingHomeAffordable.gov

The official MHA website helps homeowners navigate through several possible non-foreclosure options and directs them to where they can apply to receive help.

CALL 888-995-HOPE™

If you don't want to call your mortgage company, call this hotline and you can talk with HUD-approved credit counselors who can walk you through multiple home retention options.

HOPE NOW is a housing alliance dedicated to helping homeowners and families stay in their homes. For more information on HOPE NOW and the resources listed above, visit the official HOPE NOW website found below.
